

BREMERTON RACEWAY RACERS TO COMPETE IN WORLD FINALS

Two Bremerton Raceway racers, Troy Johnston and Robert Steffen, are heading to Pomona, CA this week to compete at the NHRA National Event November 9 thru 13.

The National Hot Rod Association (NHRA) is comprised of seven divisions. Bremerton Raceway, a Division 6 track, has been conducting drag races on the inactive runway at the Bremerton National Airport since 1959.

Each year the member tracks take a team composed of Sportsman, Pro, Super Pro, Bike/Sled, Junior Dragsters and Junior Street competitors to the Summit E. T. Finals in the Saturday Race of Champions race and the Sunday Team Race. The winner of the Sportsman, Pro, Super Pro and Bike/Sled bracket in the Race of Champions is invited to compete at the World Finals at the NHRA Pomona National Event where they compete against the winner from the other NHRA divisions. The winner in each is considered the World Champion of their bracket.

Troy Johnston of Keyport, WA earned this prestigious opportunity when he won the Race of Champions Sportsman bracket at the 2017 NHRA Division Six E. T. Finals held in Woodburn, Oregon Labor Day weekend.

Robert Steffen of Tumwater, WA, a multi-time Bremerton Raceway Pro Track Champion, will represent Division Six in the Pro bracket. Robert was World Champion in Pro bracket in 2015.

Please join us in wishing Troy and Robert safe travels and the best of luck at the event. May they all be green!
